ARMY ROTC

If you are attending or plan to attend Northern Arizona University and are interested in receiving some of the best leadership training available and possibly a scholarship, Army ROTC may be right for you.

The Army ROTC program provides an opportunity for college students to receive practical, hands-on leadership experience and prepares them for service as an Army Officer. These courses teach students to develop management, communication, and decision-making skills that are useful in and out of the Army. This training is ultimately designed to give the college student the necessary leadership skills and "ability to think on one's feet" required to be an officer in the United States Army. The Army ROTC program offers the opportunity to earn a commission in the active Army as well as the Army National Guard or the Army Reserves (through the Simultaneous Member Program).

Students who are interested in obtaining a Bachelors or Graduate degree may choose to enroll in Army ROTC as an elective without any commitment. Students who decide to commit must be qualified and contracted by the beginning of their last two years of school. Upon completion of the program, students receive a commission as Officers in the United States Army.

The Army offers 2, 3, and 4 year scholarships to students, depending on the number of semesters required to complete their degree. To qualify, you must:

Non-Scholarship Students:

Students can contract in Army ROTC without a scholarship and will receive a stipend of $420 per month during the school year.

What happens after Graduation?

Upon completion of their degree and Army ROTC requirements, Cadets commission as Second Lieutenants in the United States Army.

New Lieutenants selected for active duty are branched into one of 17 Army branches and assigned to one of over 25 installations in the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Germany or Korea. For Lieutenants commissioned into the National Guard or Reserves, branch and duty assignments are based on availability and your needs.

Service Obligation

You can serve full time in the Army for three years (four years for scholarship winners), with the balance in the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR). Selected Cadets may choose to serve part time in the U.S. Army Reserve or Army National Guard while pursuing a civilian career.
