Final Project Report

This project provided the travel funding for the cooperators to travel from Tucson, Arizona, to Santa Fe, New Mexico, with the Intermountain Region Museum Services team to pack and inventory the collections before transport.

Travel took place between the months of February and March of 2007, and in January of 2008. Objects and archives were packed and inventoried for relocation to the facility in Tucson, Arizona, because of the impending closure of the Paisano Building.

The NPS Archivist, NPS Conservator, and NPS Registrar coordinated each relevant segment of the process, and provided training and oversight for the cooperators, as necessary, for the work and to resolve storage concerns as they arose.

After the travel phase was complete, remaining funding was used to assist with the processing of collections which had been relocated to Tucson.
