

NAU Timely Warning / Crime Alert (CA# 2021-008)Stalking

There have been several recent reports of female students being stalked on campus by a fellow male student. NAU has initiated administrative action on the male student involved in these incidents.

On 9/11/2021 at approximately 4:30 PM, NAUPD responded to an on-campus residential hall for a late reported assault. A female student reported that a fellow male student had been hitting her over the past few days and was being inappropriate towards her. The female student told the male student that she didn't want him around her, but the male student continued to engage in a course of conduct towards her to include showing up outside her door.

On 10/26/2021 at approx. 11:30 AM, a separate female student described a course of conduct directed at her to include being followed to an off-campus party and on the night of 10/23/2021 being pulled into the fellow male student's room in an on-campus residential hall while she was intoxicated. Active bystanders witnessed the male student attempting to bring her and another intoxicated female into the on-campus residential hall and intervened.

On 10/25/2021 at approximately 11:10 AM, one of the active bystanders (from 10/23/2021) was briefly cornered by the male student in a stairwell in an on-campus residential hall. She reported the male student has begun taking the staircase closer to her room.

SAFETY TIPS

- If you feel you are being stalked or if you encounter other suspicious activity, contact police by calling 911 immediately.
- Use the police department's safety escort service. Call (928) 523-3611.
- Walk in pairs, with friends, or in groups and stay in well-lit areas.
- Be aware of your surroundings. Know where you are and where you are going.
- If someone tells you not to interact with them, respect their decision and leave them alone.
