

Louie Course Permissions Error Transcript

Let's take a look at course permission errors in LOUIE. When enrolling in courses, you may encounter an error that says, "You do not have permission to enroll in this class."

If you encounter this error, it means you will need to acquire the permission number. This can be done by either:

- a. Contacting the course instructor and asking for the permission number, or
- b. Contacting the department the class belongs to and asking them for the permission number.

Once you have obtained the permission number, select the course inside your shopping cart. This should take you to the course's Enrollment Preferences page.

From here, find the "Permission Number" box, near the center of the screen. Type the permission number into this box and try to enroll again.
