Dear Adidas Selection Committee:

I am excited to apply for your open Sustainability Consultant position, which I found on Handshake. A lifelong lover of your brand, I also have a fervent passion for preserving the environment and fighting climate change. Because you are ranked among Forbes' Top 50 Sustainable Companies of 2019, I believe that we are a perfect fit.

While earning my degree in Environmental Sciences, I had the opportunity to engage in field research for a year. Working under Dr. Leah Lehm, our team of 11 researchers successfully collaborated to study the effects of chemical emissions on water quality by collecting data from bodies of water within 50 miles of various manufacturing plants. This experience helped me hone my quantitative and data analysis skills using NodeXL and other software, and it further developed my keen attention to detail and teamwork skills. As of last year, four separate companies have begun using our results to determine more environmentally sustainable business practices. Knowing this has been the greatest reward of my life.

Thank you for considering my application, and feel free to contact me by phone or e-mail if you have questions. I would love to continue this conversation on how my skills can help Adidas become an even more sustainable company.

All my best,
