

Sierra Vista Hikes

Carr Peak Trail

- Distance: 4.1 miles
- Elevation Gain: 2,221 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 4
 - Access to Carr and Miller peaks. Motorized vehicles and mountain bikes are not permitted. Trail to the summit is through a burnt area due to two previous wildfires in 1977 and 1991. But the aspens have recovered and make for a beautiful fall colors hike.

Garden Canyon to Brown Canyon Loop

- Distance: 13.2 miles
- Elevation Gain: 1,112 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3
 - Great loop trail for mountain biking and nature walks. The Garden Canyon portion is a good introduction into mountain biking. The Brown Canyon Loop is more technical with some steep ups and downs. Traffic during the weekends can get heavy at times with hikers, dog walkers, equestrians, and others.

Miller Canyon Peak Trail

- Distance: 3.5 miles
- Elevation Gain: 2,800 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 5
 - Views of peaks and valleys. Miller Creek bed normally has water in it year-round. Historic mining area with great fall colors. Motorized vehicles and mountain bikes are not permitted.

Millville Historic Discovery Trail

- Distance: 1.8 miles
- Elevation Gain: 108 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 2
 - Accessible year-round and family/pet friendly trail. Make sure to pack water because there are not many shaded areas along the trail. Historical facts along the way to learn about the area.

Murray Springs Interpretive Trail

- Distance: 0.8 mile
- Elevation Gain: 36 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 1

- Best used in March- October. Features beautiful wildflowers and great educational opportunities to learn about the Clovis man and the Mammoth kill site. Bones of several extinct animals were found at this site including Mammoth, North American horse, Camels, Bison, Lion, and Dire wolf. The age of the site is roughly 11,000 years old.

San Pedro House

- Distance: 2 mile loop
- Elevation Gain: 26 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 1
 - Accessible year-round and located in the San Pedro Riparian National Conservation Area (NCA). Amazing riverside scene with the plants (large cottonwood trees) and animals. If you are into bird-watching, this is a great trail to explore.

San Pedro River Trail
