

Yuma Hikes

Big Eye Mine

- Distance: 1.2 miles
- Elevation Gain: 232 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 1
 - Primarily used for hiking and nature walks. Some historic buildings and mines along the trail. This is a great option for the beginner hiker or anyone looking for a gentle, relaxing walk.

East Wetlands Interpretive Trail

- Distance: 2.6 miles
- Elevation Gain: 22 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 1
 - Accessible year-round. Features the Colorado river. Dogs must be leashed. Great for mountain biking or horseback riding. Old jailhouse for historic context. This is a great hike for all levels, with plenty to see and enjoy along the way.

Jasper Trail

- Distance: 3.8 miles
- Elevation Gain: 334 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3
 - Best used from March-October. Dogs must be leashed. Trail leads to Jester Trailhead. Trail is a 4x4 road, but still provides abundant plant and animal life. Don't forget extra water and sun protection on this one.

Jester's Trail

- Distance: 2.8 miles
- Elevation Gain: 1,174 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3
 - Steep, narrow, rocky trail carved into the rock of one of the Gila Mountains. Best used from October-May. Dogs must be leashed. Not much shade so prepare for the warmth, and pack lots of water and sun protection.

Laguna Mountain Ridge Trail

- Distance: 15.4 miles
- Elevation Gain: 2,175 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3
 - Nice trail to hike, mountain bike, walk your dog, or off-road drive. Great wildlife viewing opportunities, so bring the camera! This trail will make for a long day, so pack a lunch and LOTS of water. Don't forget the sun protection too.

Marty's Ridge to Liberty Bell

- Distance: 8.6 miles loop
- Elevation Gain: 833 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3
 - Accessible year-round. Dogs must be leashed. Lots of ATV/off-road vehicle trails all around. Make sure to become familiar with the direction of the trail before going out there because it is easy to go the wrong way. Mountain biking allowed.

Paradise Valley Loop

- Distance: 13.6 miles
- Elevation Gain: 1,398 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 4
 - Accessible year-round. Great for hiking and mountain biking with great views of wildflowers. Off-road 4X4 driving parallel to the trail.

Telegraph Pass Trail

- Distance: 5 miles
- Elevation Gain: 1,092 feet
- Difficulty Rating: 3

Summit hike. In the springtime, enjoy some blooming of wildflowers and desert plants. Best hike for early in the morning because it does get hot later in the day. Best used from October-March, but definitely a hike you don't want to miss out on. Perfect for the intermediate hiker.