Tina Waddington

Tina Waddington is the Community Engagement Manager for SEED SPOT, a national non-profit organization that helps social entrepreneurs start and scale their businesses. Tina works to build the entrepreneur support ecosystem nationally. Tina serves on multiple councils and boards with the goal of increasing Arizona's prominence internationally. She has been involved with the Phoenix Committee on Foreign Relations for many years and sits on the organization's board, in addition to co-chairing the Public Affairs committee. As a member of the Phoenix Sister Cities Business Council and USGLC Arizona Advisory Committee, Tina works to advocate for Arizona and increase economic development opportunities through international cooperation and diplomacy. Tina received her undergraduate degree in Political Science and Italian from the University of Arizona and her master's degree in Social Justice and Human Rights from Arizona State University.
