In the Footsteps of Survivors is a 17-day study tour in Poland and Germany for 20 Arizona educators to Holocaust sites related to the memoirs of Holocaust survivors Doris Martin (Kiss Every Step) and Edward Gastfriend (My Father's Testament). By connecting their lives to the locations we visit, this educational study tour offers an intimate portrait of the calamities that befell Jewish people in Nazi occupied Europe. We will see, listen, and explore each location through the eyes of two survivors, and reflect on the value and importance of integrating the Holocaust and its lessons into our school curricula. We will also meet and talk to European guides, curators, memory activists, and educators while visiting diverse sites.

PROGAM DETAILS

This educational study tour is organized by NAU's Martin-Springer Institute, founded 20 years ago by Holocaust survivor Doris (Szpringer) and her husband Ralph Martin.

EF Educational Tours is responsible for all travel logistics. The program content is developed and facilitated by Dr. Björn Krondorfer, director of the Martin-Springer Institute and Regents' Professor at Northern Arizona University.

The program will start with our departure from Phoenix to Krakow, Poland on June 6 and ends on June 22 with our return from Berlin, Germany. The travel itinerary will take us from Krakow to Auschwitz-Birkenau, Sosnowiec and Bedzin, the Blechhammer and Gross-Rosen camps, Weimar and the Buchenwald camp memorial, the (former) East German city of Halberstadt and the camp of Langenstein-Zwieberge. It concludes in Berlin.

It is supported by the Jewish Material Claims Conference, the Molly Blank Fund, the family of G Shanahan and Marc Dubowy, and the Martin-Springer Institute.

Valued at about $7,000 a person, successful applicants pay only $1,000 toward the program (plus incidentals).

- Acceptance into the program includes flight, regional and local travel, accommodations (double occupancy), museum fees, guides and speakers, some meals, reading materials, and group travel insurance.
- Individuals who wish single occupancy rooms and/or make changes to their return flight itinerary are responsible for the extra expense.
- Participants will be responsible for about half of all lunches and dinners themselves.
- Participants will be responsible for occasional gratuities.

Please note that this is a travel-intensive program, including daily walking tours in cities and often on uneven terrain.

Pre- and post-travel meetings are mandatory. Pre-departure meetings will be held via Zoom in April /May; a one-day post-departure meeting at NAU will take place in the fall of 2022.

Continuing Education credit is available; academic credit can be arranged with NAU's Center of International Education at an additional cost.
