

What is Priority Enrollment?

Priority Enrollment (PE) is for all newly accepted undergraduate students to secure enrollment before meeting their academic advisor or attending Orientation. After you submit a PE profile, your academic advisor will enroll you in your first term's classes. Personalized Learning students do not utilize PE.*

I'm a transfer student. Is PE for me?

Yes! PE is for all new undergraduate students, including first-year and transfer. Your profile will be routed to your assigned academic advisor. They will contact you to discuss your transfer credit and get you enrolled in your first term's classes.

I'm Exploratory. Is PE for me?

Yes! Academic advisors are specially trained to advise and enroll Exploratory students.

I'm not sure what classes to take. Is PE for me?

Yes! Academic advisors are knowledgeable of your major's degree requirements. With the information you provide in your PE profile, a schedule will be built that matches your intended major, transfer credits, placements, and other relevant information.

How do I submit a PE profile?

It's super easy. Follow these steps:

1. Sign up for Orientation:
 - a. If you are a first-year student attending the Flagstaff Mountain campus, first sign up for an Orientation session. Your schedule will not be built without an Orientation date.
 - b. If you are a transfer student attending the Flagstaff Mountain campus, you are not required to sign up for Orientation to enroll in your first term's classes. You may consider attending one of NAU's Transfer Track Orientations, or completing the Online Orientation. For more information: nau.edu/Orientation
2. Submit your Priority Enrollment profile at nau.edu/priorityenrollment
3. Send all college transcripts and test scores to NAU Admissions.

I'm having issues submitting a PE profile. What should I do?

First, verify you have completed the following.

1. Gain acceptance to NAU, and pay your enrollment deposit. Contact Undergraduate Admissions to check on your acceptance, or pay your enrollment deposit: (928) 523-5511
2. First-year students: sign up for Orientation. You must be signed up for Orientation to have your first term's schedule built. To sign up: nau.edu/Orientation (This is not required for transfer or online students.)

Second, if those items are complete, check your password. You log into the PE application with your NAU user ID and password. Update your password at nau.edu/password.

Lastly, if you complete these items and you are still having trouble logging into the application or submitting a profile, please contact University Advising at (928) 523 4772.

Can I change my profile once I submit?

Yes, you can submit a profile change request online here, or at nau.edu/priorityenrollment.

When will I get my schedule?

Beginning in March, schedules will be built in the order profiles were received. Check your NAU email for any communication regarding Priority Enrollment and your first term's schedule.

What if I don't like my schedule? Can I change it?

When you attend Orientation or work with your academic advisor, you will review your schedule and have the opportunity to make changes. Do not drop classes before talking to your academic advisor; an enrollment hold will prevent you from reenrolling in classes. If you have questions about your schedule, contact your advisor:

- First-Year students: Find your advisor's name in your LOUIE Student Center under "advisor," email priorityenrollment@nau.edu, or call (928) 523 4772.
- Transfer students: Find your advisor's name in your LOUIE Student Center under "advisor," or find your major's department contact: Advisor Directory
